TAFTVILLE

A special meeting of the Taftville Athletic association was held Wednesday evening.

Various matters of routine nature were transacted. Harold Decolles, sportstop on the ball team, was elected field captain.

For the past week men have been leveling off the sides of the recently finished road from Providence street, taking in Merchants' avenue, to the reservoir. The road is to be built all the way to Norwich town in time.

During the recent electric storm several houses in the village were struck, but apparently no damage was done.

There is some talk about having another big athletic meet this Labor day. Last year's meet was a success and consisted of 25 events. The meet was held under the auspices of the Twilight League.

Quite a few of the villagers witnessed the ball game between two local teams yesterday afternoon on the Providence street grounds.

CROWD CRACKS WINDOW AT

G. & T. GRAND STORE OPENING

A jamming, pushing crowd of several hundred surged into the G. & T. Grand store, Inc., in the Thayer building on Franklin street, when it opened for the first time Thursday morning.

Three policemen had been specially detailed to handle the crowd, but it took their best efforts, with the aid of the regular men on that beat, several Norwich merchants from other stores in the Thayer building and half a dozen New York merchants who were on hand for the opening, to keep something of order in the tightly packed crowd as men, women and children jammed through the doorway and spread around the store.

It was one of the large windows in the store front was cracked and the window was shattered by a big glass pane was not pushed in bodily.

It was reported to be the biggest crowd ever seen at the opening of a new Norwich store. Thirty-six clerks, under the direction of Harry Tannenbaum, president, and Abe Tannenbaum, vice president, attended to the wants of the customers, who were there to buy and gave the store an immense business for its first day.

A big floral horsehair with the card "From Pa and Ma" held a prominent place on the showcase in front of the store.

Manager Tannenbaum had Don Houghton take a picture of the record breaking crowd which he will cherish as a souvenir of his entrance into the business life of Norwich.

Liberty Woolen Spoolers Report Strike

The spoolers at the Liberty Woolen company, most of whom are women reported Thursday night that they are on strike owing to a disagreement as to wages and to show their objection to the removal of Herbert S. Frank as boss spooler. One of the young women on Thursday said that the spoolers did not want to go on to piece work but wanted to work at day wages.

The young woman also said the spoolers did not care to work under the new boss spooler and that the strike was partly in protest against the removal of Mr. Frank who had been boss spooler for some time at the mill. There are reported to be about 20 girls out on the strike.

Have You Piles?

THEN YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO LEARN.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonard tried it in 1600 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Lee & Osmond's today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.

DROWNED TRYING TO SAVE HER BROTHER

Trying to save her 6-year-old brother, Jacob Frank, from drowning in the Massachusetts mill pond, at Oakdale, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Ray Blanche Katz, 25, of New York lost her life, but her boy was saved by Sam Orenstein after Mrs. Katz had managed to toss him towards the shore into shallow water.

Mrs. Katz, with her mother and two small children, has been spending the summer at the home of Mr. Gaswicz.

While there her small brother waded too far out into the water. There he could not swim and was unable to throw himself back towards the shore. But in doing so she slipped into deep water where the bottom is muddy and she sank from sight.

Orenstein, who was driving by in an automobile, heard the cries for help and jumped out of his machine, pulled the boy from the water. Then he was told that Mrs. Katz had sunk farther out. Orenstein dived three times after the woman, but could not find her in the muddy water and had to give up the search.

Mr. Dart, superintendent of the mill, had the water drawn off the pond as soon as he was notified of the drowning and the body of Mrs. Katz was soon found.

Dr. M. E. Fox, medical examiner, reached the scene before the body was recovered and when it had been brought ashore gave permission for its removal to the farm of Mr. Gaswicz.

The woman's husband in New York was notified and will come here to take charge of the body. Besides her husband, she leaves two small children, her mother and other relatives.

PUTNAM MAN APPEALS FROM PROVIDENCE POLICE COURT

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Providence, R. I., July 27.—Louis D. Carmack, Jr., of Putnam was sentenced to 10 days in the Providence county jail to pay a fine of $100 in the Sixth District court today by Judge Howard B. Torham on the charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated.

After a trial of nearly two hours he was adjudged probably guilty and sentenced, but took an appeal to the superior court, bail being furnished by his father, Louis D. Carmack of Messer street, this city, in the sum of $1,000.

According to the testimony given by the police, Carmack was driving his automobile down Cranston street in this city just before 1 o'clock on the morning of July 16 at about forty miles an hour. From Bridgman to Pearl street, Cranston street was under construction, with the usual signs and lanterns used by the highway department, being displayed.

Carmack, it was said, ran at a high rate of speed on to the car tracks and drove his car to near the corner of Pearl street, bounding and bouncing over the open ties while a young woman in the car with him was shouting from fright. The machine was stopped by the police at Pearl street and Mr. Carmack was placed under arrest and taken to the Fourth station.

The police said that the defendant at the time of the arrest said that he had been at a party where "home brew" was served and that he also has a drink of gin.

Mr. Paddock, attorney for the defendant, asked for a non suit contending that there was insufficient evidence to indicate that Mr. Carmack was intoxicated.

Mr. Carmack said that he lived in Putnam where he is employed by his father and other relatives reside in this city and that he spends the week-ends with them.

On the night of July 15 he said he drove his family down town early in the evening and later returned to his father's home on Messer street. He said he and his father drank two drinks of Scotch whiskey together after they returned home. He said that he then went to bed and after he got to sleep he was called to the telephone and his sister, who lives on Chapin avenue some quarter of a mile from his father's, wanted him to take a young woman friend of hers to her home near Warren.

He said he got his automobile out, although he was feeling sleepy and, taking his sister's friend, started down Cranston street. He was driving in the car tracks at a moderate rate of speed and he passed Bridgman street before he noticed that the street was torn up and under construction. He said he thought he could keep on his way and get through the obstruction but after going some distance the wheels of the machine left the rails and he found he could not

PROPOSE TO FORM D. A. R. SOCIETY IN LEBANON

An informal gathering of women interested in the formation of a Lebanon chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held in Lebanon Wednesday afternoon at the summer home of Miss Bertha Perry of New London.

Mrs. Robert A. T. Blitgood, a prominent member and officer of Lucretia Shaw chapter of New London, explained the purpose and aims of the organization.

She said that membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution is open to any woman not less than 18 years of age, who is descended from a man or woman who gave unfailing loyalty to the cause of American independence, as a recognized patriot, soldier, sailor or civil officer in one of the several colonies or states or of the United Colonies; provided she is personally accepted.

The object of the organization is, she explained, to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence, cherish, maintain and extend institutions of American freedom; to foster true patriotism and love of country; and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty.

Among those who attended the meeting were: Mrs. John Gallup, ex-regent of the Moosup chapter, D. A. R., and Mrs. Eliza Rogers, ex-regent of the Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R., of Norwich.

HOME COOKING TO BE TAUGHT IN STORRS COURSE

The pies that mother used to bake have been enshrined in poetry and prose and they too often have paved the way for dyspepsia later on, affirm the home economics specialists. Some even go so far as to say that the frying pan has claimed more victims than have high explosives.

In other words, it is alleged that home cooking has not always been all that has been advertised.

The planning and preparation of well balanced meals will be a part of the instruction in a one-week short course for women which is to be held at Connecticut Agricultural College, August 16-20 and to be repeated August 23-27.

Picnic and school lunches and menus for the sick will be other topics discussed.

In addition to the lectures and demonstrations on cooking, there will be an instruction in cutting and making of dresses, color, material and suitability of fabrics, uses of household dyes, etc.

The courses are designed for women who haven't the time to take a college course in home economics but would like to keep in touch with the latest wrinkles in the art of home-making.

The courses are free. Applications should be made to Miss M. E. Sprague, dean of home economics, Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs, Conn.

PACKERVILLE BAPTIST CHURCH HAD EVENTFUL HISTORY

The loss of the old Baptist church at Packerville by fire after being struck by lightning Tuesday recalls the fact that this building figures prominently in the history of that section. It was built in 1825, and was credited with being the first church in the United States which welcomed negroes as equals.

In it one of the first women's temperance societies was formed. It not the first, and from this body grew the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Mrs. Chloe Truesdale, aged 87, who lives nearby, was one of the members of the original society.

Among families who worshipped in the church were names connected in New England affairs were the Burleighs, Garrisons, Prossers, Galusha, A. Gow, long a congressman from Pennsylvania, and Rev. Dr. Charles Spaulding of Boston, long president of the American Baptist Publishing society.

The church was long known as the "Baptist Church of Freedom."

200 BOYS AND GIRLS FOR COURSE AT STORRS

Two hundred boys and girls from Connecticut will attend the Junior short course at Storrs, August 6 to 13.

Boys will receive instruction in poultry raising, dairying, sheep and swine raising and in garden crops while the girls will study dressmaking, cooking and sewing.

The youngsters who will spend the week at Storrs are members of the boys' and girls' clubs and have won the right to attend the short course by exceptionally good work in the clubs. The county club agent in each county will be in charge of his own delegation. In most instances the club members will assemble at the county farm bureau offices for the trip to Storrs.

Cigarette Sets Roof Afire.

A lighted cigarette thrown from a neighboring building on the roof of the building occupied by the Charles W. Sirkland Co., at 124 State street, N. W. London is responsible for the fire which gave the roof a start at a 1-2-3 30 minutes about 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to the union of Fire Chief John Standish. A square patch of shingles covering an area of about six square feet was blown up by the firemen, who hauled several times to the roof and quickly extinguished the blaze.

LITTLE THINGS

He rang in a little sooner
Than the fellows in his shop;
And he stayed a little longer
When the whistle ordered "Stop!"
He worked a little harder
And he talked a little less;
He seemed but little hurried
And he showed but little stress,
For every little movement
His efficiency expressed.
Thus his envelope grew just
A little thicker than the rest.
He saved a little money
In a hundred little ways;
He banked a little extra
When he got a little raise.
A little "working model"
Took his little "leisure" time;
He wrought each little part of it
With patience most sublime.
Now it's very little wonder
That he murmurs with a smile,
As he clips his little coupons:
"Are the little things worth while?"
